2) Student get ready for the live class

Once you have written the course schedule, your students will be able to watch it from their course page. They will follow your instructions and get ready for joining the live class.

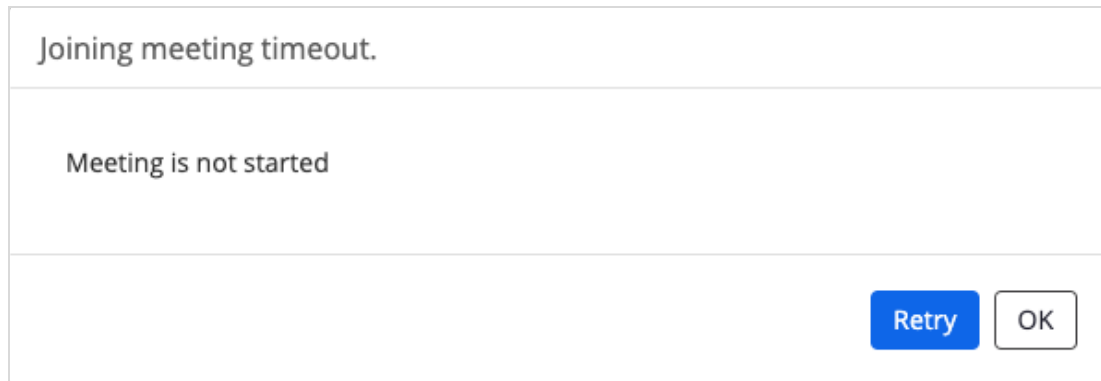

The screenshot shows a user interface for a course page. At the top, there is a dark navigation bar with three buttons: a back arrow, "< My courses", and "Course details >". Below this, the main heading is "Course content". Underneath, there are two tabs: "Lessons" (highlighted in blue) and "Live class". The "Live class" tab is active, displaying a calendar icon followed by the text "Live class schedule". Below this, the date and time "10am : 23rd May, 2020" are shown. A light blue box contains the text "This is the note". At the bottom, there is a prominent blue button with a video camera icon and the text "Join live video class".

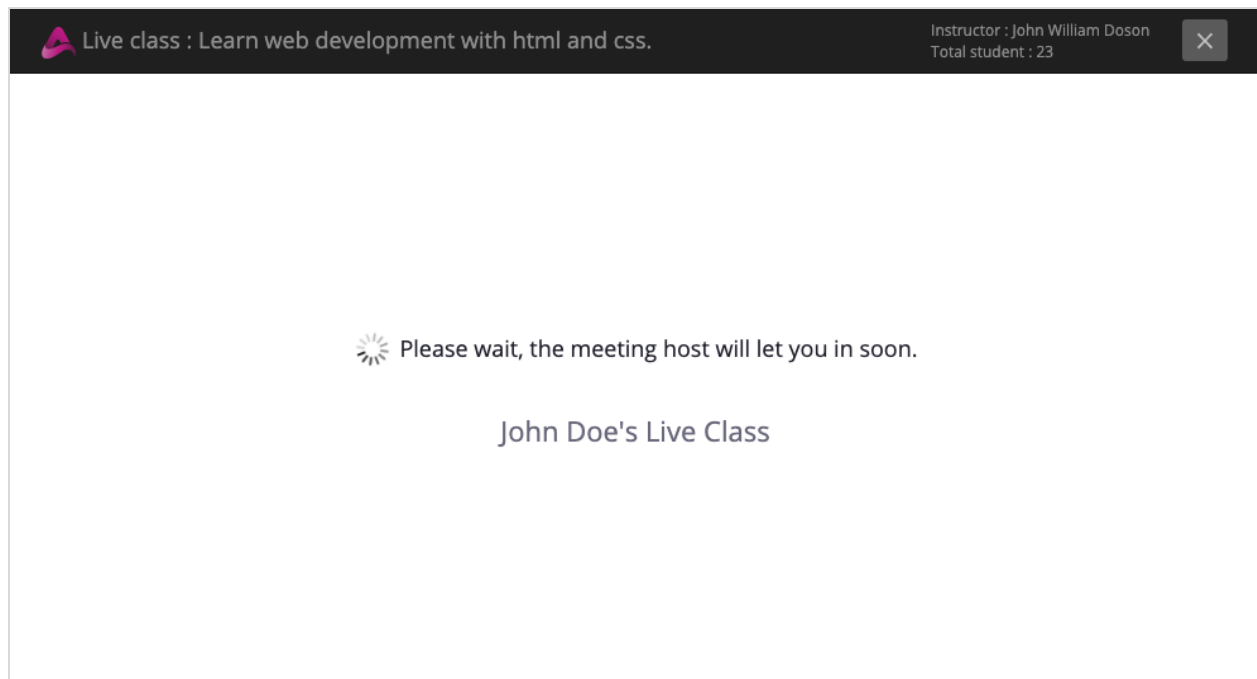

3) Student join the live class

During your announced schedule, you need to start the zoom meeting from your pc or mobile app.

If they try to enter the class before you have started the zoom meeting, they will see a warning message.

If they try to join the live class after you have started the zoom meeting, they will remain in your live class waiting room.

4) Instructor approves students and starts live class

While students try to join your live class, you will be prompted to admit them in. After you have approved their joining request they will enter the live video class from the waiting room.
